Frontend Developer with Full Stack Capabilities

Developer who combines React and Next.js skills with over 10 years of design experience to create visually appealing and functionally sound web applications. My experience bridging design and development helps me create intuitive interfaces that enhance user experience while maintaining performance and scalability.

- Front-End Development: Proficient in React, Next.js, JavaScript (ES6+), and TypeScript, with experience building responsive, optimized interfaces.
- Backend Skills: Experience with Node.js, Express, and MongoDB, currently expanding knowledge of RESTful API development and server-side architecture.
- UI/UX Implementation: Strong ability to translate designs into code with attention to detail and user experience principles.
